

CREATE DIALOGUE
FOSTER UNDERSTANDING
TEACH TOLERANCE

Student to Student Buffalo is a prosocial program where Jewish teens travel to area High Schools to engage with their non-Jewish peers. Jewish teens are trained to both share personal stories and authentically and respectfully respond to questions about Jewish identity, culture, values, and religious practices. The presentation resonates highly with other students as it is peer-led, making the content relevant while allowing for informal discussion.

// It is through programs such as this that our communities learn to understand each other better so that we can live in mutual respect and peace. // — Participating Teacher in St. Louis

» Based on a national program, Student to Student uses peer-to-peer dialogue to teach teens about identity, diversity, and inquiry, and to build confidence and acceptance of others.

Both teen presenters meet regularly for training and reflection and make 3 presentations each semester. Teens can receive up to 20 hours of community service for participating.

PRESENTERS DISCUSS A RANGE OF TOPICS, INCLUDING:

- A typical day in the teens' lives
- The Jewish calendar and holidays
- The Sabbath
- The Jewish life cycle
- The Hebrew language
- The Holocaust
- Antisemitism
- Israel
